N DIPLOMATIC LANGUAGE MEXICO DEFINITELY REJECTS PRESIDENT WILSON'S PEACE PROPOSALS

Mexico City Aug 20—Further negotiations looking toward a peaceful settlement of the Mexican situation appear now to depend upon

Washington

If the United States is willing to open the controversy it is believed the Mexican government is willing to accept a reply couched in diplomatic language was a definite rejection of President Wilson's proposals as submitted by Lindbergh. The American government has been fit to submit to new proposals it is considered here that negotiations will be closed.

Lind is awaiting instructions from Washington but believes the Mexican government may yet enter into President Wilson's peace proposals. The personal relations of Lind and the members of the government here are friendly. Lind sent a message of condolence to the foreign office last night over the loss of nearly 100 lives in the Tacuba explosion.

Full Information is Awaited

Washington Aug 20—Administration officials are still without the complete text of the Huerta government's sole rejecting President Wilson's suggestions for peace and a full adjustment of Mexican differences. While the United States will await Mr. Lind's report of supplementary negotiations there is reluctance as to what course will be pursued in the event of absolute rejection of the proposal.

Government officials who discussed the situation with President Wilson say the United States will not recede from the original proposal—that the government can not recognize any regime unless a constitutional election is held. Policy of noninterference by continuing dealing arms to Mexicans and the withdrawal of Americans from the trouble zone will likely be up in effect.

In some administration quarters there is talk of drastic measures. Five to twenty acre suburban lots inside city at farm land prices. J B Dell

GOVERNOR HAS MADE ANSWER

Executive Gives Out His Brief Reply To Senator Hankhead's Last Statement During Wednesday

Montgomery Ala Aug 20—Following the latest statement from United States Senator John H. Bankhead to the effect that a special session of the legislature is the only solution to the senatorial predicament Governor Emmet O'Neal issued an other brief statement Wednesday afternoon declaring that he still believes that he was legally authorized to make the appointment of Henry D. Clayton and that he will take no further action in the matter until the United States has acted officially on it.

The interview of Senator Bankhead caused considerable political gossip Wednesday in Montgomery but it is not believed that Governor O'Neal will call an extra session of the legislature. He has engaged reservations to leave Montgomery Friday night for the conference of Governors at Colorado Springs and unless there are developments before his departure it is quite likely that the situation would remain in statu quo until he returns to Alabama during the first week in September.

The governor will not send him self from the Colorado conference unless the urgency demands an action does not seem likely that the senatorial complications will cause him to abandon his trip. He will be accompanied by Mrs. O'Neal and his daughter Miss Olivia.

EATING EM UP

The Albany Cotton Exchange in its letter of yesterday has something interesting about reports Dallas wired Owing to the long drought and extreme heat the staple here is very inferior. Popular estimates for Texas about 400,000 bales and early frost would result in the further reduction.

From Entaw Ala. a telegram was sent that said the bollworms here were in simply bedlamous eating up bolls squares. It is forms and even the young stalks.

That was sent by a humorist no doubt for the bollworms don't do all that.

CLAYTON'S CASE MAY BE UP

Washington Aug 20—Supporters of Representative Henry D. Clayton Governor O'Neal's appointment to succeed the late Senator Joseph F. Johnston of Alabama decided today not to ask the state to call a special session of the legislature at once to the senate and let the committee on election deal with the question of seating him.

MRS. M. A. ELLISON ADDRESSES TEACHERS

The Institute was called to order by Prof. Wright with song "My Old Kentucky Home." The roll was next called. Miss Delphine Pennington then discussed elementary Primary and Grammar number work giving many new methods of teaching this difficult subject. After her lecture Prof. Wright introduced Mrs. M. A. Ellison who made an excellent address on School Improvement work. Her speech evoked such enthusiasm that it was immediately decided to organize an association in this county. So the following officers were elected: President Prof. R. H. Southernland, Vice President Prof. I. O. Sellers, Secretary Treasurer Miss Foster of the Primary Grades of the city school.

All the teachers of the county were requested to organize local associations in their districts and co-operate with the county organization. Thus the movement promises much success during the incoming year.

The exercises having closed the Institute adjourned for a short termination.

After recess Prof. Wright continued his address on the relation of the soul mind body and spirit. This subject has attracted wide attention and he has practically held the interest well bound by his addresses. The value of this discussion may be judged from the fact that Prof. Wright has been quoted so much that he has been forced to continue his address the third time.

Institute adjourned for the day.

MONTGOMERY LIVERYMAN KILLED IN RUNAWAY

M. T. SLOUGH WAS KILLED KNOWN IN MONTGOMERY WHERE HE WAS NATURAL BORN-TENSEN.

The Advertiser has the following to say about the death of M. T. Sough a Montgomery liveryman, which occurred in Montgomery last Monday.

Jumping from a buggy when he lost control of the horse he was driving M. T. Sough, 217 North Perry Street, a well known liveryman was instantly killed shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon near the intersection of Lawrence and Jefferson streets. Mr. Sough's head struck a street car rail and his skull was crushed by the contact.

Mr. Sough was driving one of the stable horses and the animal became frightened by some object on Lawrence Street. Mr. Sough realized that he had lost control of the horse and jumped in an effort to save his life. His head struck a street car rail, killing him instantly. He was also bruised about the face and other parts of the body.

The accident was witnessed by a number of persons, among them being many women and children, residents of Lawrence Street. The crowd rushed to the fallen man's side as the buggy passed on down the street, and carried his body to a nearby grocery store, where a physician was summoned. It was too late, however, for the injured man never showed signs of life after the fall to the steel track.

Mr. Sough was well known in Montgomery where he has been in the livery business for a number of years. He was 40 years of age and is survived by a wife and two children who are 14 and 10 years of age. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Mr. Sough was well known in Dothan where he is survived by several of his kinsmen. He was a nephew by marriage to Mr. J. J. Lore of this city and a cousin of J. J. and M. H. Sough, all of Dothan. He also has many friends in Dothan who will regret to learn of his sudden death.

UNDERWOOD WILL SEEK LONG TERM IN U. S. SENATE

Birmingham, Ala., August 20.—According to a close personal and political friend of Congressman Oscar W. Underwood, democratic leader of Congress, Mr. Underwood will probably not be a candidate for the short term in the United States senate but will in all probability be an aspirant for the long term at the general election in 1931.

So far Mr. Underwood has not made any declaration of his attitude as to the senatorial attitude. It is admitted by the close friends of the majority leader that he has been outperformed by prominent demagogues in all sections of the state in getting into the senatorial race for the short term. However, it is understood that Mr. Underwood feels that it is his duty to the party to remain in the house until after the tariff and the currency legislation are disposed of. It is predicted that both of the present bills will become law before the present session of congress adjourns. After that time Mr. Underwood will be in a position to make the race unhampered and the most trustworthy ally in the effect that he will enter the contest for the long term.

Friends (Continued)
It is known that some of the clo-

friends of Mr. Underwood are not taking that his friends will not commit themselves on the long term until after the present situation clears up.

Mr. Underwood is fearful that the senate will take the position that the governor cannot appoint until authorized to do so by the legislature. Furthermore, it is stated that Mr. Underwood is of the opinion that it would be necessary for the governor to run the legislature in extraordinary session before the vacancy can be legally filled.

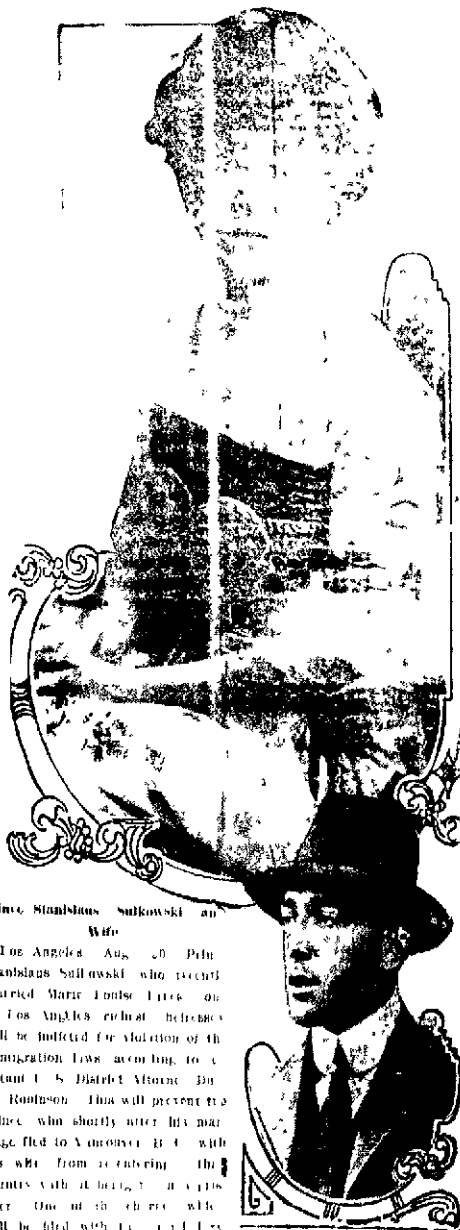

Mr. Underwood has indicated to his friends that he will probably return to Alabama when the tariff bill is enacted into a law and will confer with his friends in the state relative to the senatorial prospect. It is predicted that Mr. Underwood will at some early date announce his intention relative to his candidacy for the long term.

Caucus Wednesday Night

The democratic members of the senate will hold a caucus Wednesday night for the purpose of passing upon Mr. Clayton's credentials. It is probable that the action of the caucus will decide the question. It is the general opinion in Washington that the democratic caucus will turn down the appointment of Mr. Clayton. Then the senatorial controversy will be shifted to Alabama.

In the meantime Captain Raymond Pearson Hobson, who has announced that he will be a candidate when an election is called in Wash-

BRING US YOUR COTTON.

WE have always tried to give the farmer satisfaction, but this season we have gone to the expense of installing a crane to lift the bales of cotton from the wagon. You can see this benefit, for it does not spring, or split the wagon body, which often occurs in handling bales by hand. All you have to do is to drive up and stop. WE DO THE REST.

WE have always given special attention to weights and accuracy in handling cotton, and are better prepared this year than ever before.
